Practice of Awareness

Take a few moments to write freely. There is no need to find the perfect answer.

What is the first thought that enters your mind?

How did my first thought influence my emotions, physical sensations, or the way I began my day?

Was my first thought connected to yesterday's experiences, tomorrow's responsibilities, or the present moment?